

Large International Funding Pots

Research Professional was searched extensively for large programmes/ schemes offered by international funders, which British nationals can apply to. An alphabetical search was conducted manually in order to capture a range of funders and also select results based on BU research expertise.

Below is a list of large research grant schemes British researchers can apply to; however please note that not all are currently open for applications. Many of the international funding bodies do not have strict eligibility guidelines for many of their grants and tend to issue different guidance with different calls (tending not to have so many standard schemes people can apply for). In the majority of these cases it is normal custom and practice to email the Programme Leader for confirmation.

Where international funding bodies have formal links to the UK Research Councils, the rows are highlighted in grey.
